Static Staff '43
Assistant Business Manager of Yearbook '44
Stage Manager of Play and Dance '44

DORIS ANNE WEYL

Entered '33 "Dorie"

Dorie has proved her capability this year in handling the ads for the yearbook. Even though she doesn't like us to mention it, she is the artist of the class, and some day we shall all be able to say, "we knew her when—"

Beta Sigma '43, '44
Class Secretary '43
Business Manager Yearbook '44
Treasurer Beta Sigma '44
Dramatic Club '42, '43, '44

KATHARINE WOODBRIDGE

Entered '37 "Woody"

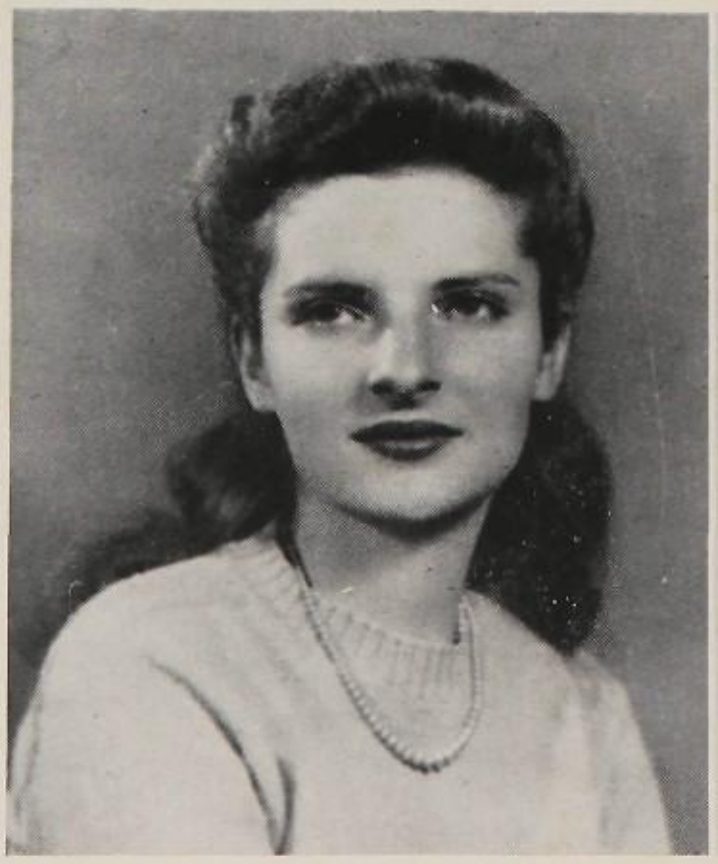
Woody's quiet efficiency has been noticeable in keeping the building in order this year. She is the envy of us all with her sewing, and is always willing to help us when we must rip out our mistakes.

Dramatic Club '41, 42, '43, '44
Static Staff '43
Yearbook Staff '44
Glee Club '43, '44



BARBARA JEAN ZIEGLER

Entered '40 "Ziggy"

We don't know what the senior class would have done without Ziggy. Her common sense and tactful suggestions have pulled us through many a difficulty. As editor of the yearbook this year, she has proven herself a hard worker, and at all times a good friend.

CLASS WILL

We, the members of the class of nineteen hundred and forty-four of the Stevens School, Germantown, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, much to our amazement, having been adjudged of sound mind and clear understanding, do hereby make and publish this, our last will and testament.

To the Faculty of the Stevens School we leave the happy memories of our years with them and the reams of paper which we have used in our exams.

To the Junior Class we leave our homeroom (much the worse for wear); and, with the hope that they like shocking pink, we leave them the Senior Lounge.

To the pupils of the Stevens School we leave the reputation and the structure of the school, or as much as is left upon our departure from this life.

We make the following bequests:

To Marguerite Garrabrant we bequeath Kathlin Alburger's curls.
To Jane Littlewood we bequeath Mary Arrison's big brown eyes.
To Tommy Thompson we bequeath Marilyn Blankin's dance style.
To Helen Fawley we bequeath Jean Budd's line.
To Audrey Young we bequeath Tillie Clark's car (and tire!)
To Joan McCue we bequeath Dottie Eddowes' coy ways.
To Louise Alston we bequeath Jean Gildersleeve's two British sailors.
To Pat Cousley we bequeath Jane Goodman's innocence.
To Doris Aitken we bequeath Elizabeth Hunter's voice.
To Miss Bever we bequeath Emilie Knipe.
To Mary De Camp we bequeath Dottie Knipe's diet.
To Eleanor Cannon we bequeath Eleanor McBride's love for Glee Club.
To Daria Marshall we bequeath Charlotte Meyer's South American relations.
To Maree Frisby we bequeath Mary Helen Moore's basketball ability.
To Sophie Elkins we bequeath Jean O'Brien's crucial moments.
To Natalie Weiss we bequeath Ann Rebok's chic wardrobe.
To Nancy Hendler we bequeath Bobbie Roberts' love of nature.
To Dawn Spencer we bequeath Dotty Roth's vim and vigor.
To Barbara Trautwein we bequeath Gwen Smith's shapely hands.
To Miss Wire we bequeath Betty Ann Troemner's coffee nerves.
To Margy Doxrud we bequeath Doris Weyl's pigtails.
To Grace Kelly we bequeath Kay Woodbridge's love for the Navy.
To Joan Kreinberg we bequeath Barbara Ziegler's blushes.

VALEDICTORY

As seniors we have often thought of the approaching end of our high school life and the demands to be made of us in the adult world. It seems to us that one of the essential needs in the world of today is that of a broad, flexible mental attitude toward the changes that will come.

In nations and individuals, the ability to organize and reorganize with ease and swiftness, is an invaluable trait. The establishment of Christianity and the colonization of the new world, are outstanding evidence that people who have been willing to make changes have brought about a more advanced civilization. All the greatest movements in history have depended upon the willingness of men to receive and use new ideas.

We need look only at the background of the United States to find evidence of this idea. Never in history have such great numbers of people broadened their mental horizons and expanded their physical boundaries, as in the period America was settled. Dissatisfied Europeans uprooted themselves from age old religions, governments, and customs, to sail across an unknown sea and to colonize a wild, new world. All the discontented people who were spirited enough to demand a new way of life, found the answer to their dreams in America. Our unique, and we hope lasting, democratic government was founded by a revolution. In the Constitution, which grew out of this upheaval, one of the strongest features lies in a clause that allows it to be amended to meet new conditions.

The spirit of pioneering is a significant American characteristic. In government and geographical expansion, in business homes and society, the pioneering attitude is shown in the changes that were made and still continue to be made by a people who are constantly searching for better things. There is no lack of reverence or respect for the great men and ideas of the past in this attitude; if a thing can be improved upon, Americans will try to improve upon it.

The time is approaching when the entire world must undergo a drastic change. The dream of youth has always been to save the world from sinking further into the abyss of war and wrong, and to give the earth its peace. We are a young, strong nation, hardened to change, and perhaps our pioneering heritage will enable us to be the youth to bring about the great salvation.

This broader mental horizon required by the pioneers of today and those of the future, can be acquired through education. We who graduate from Stevens have been given through education, knowledge that creates tolerance, progressive training that encourages initiative, and some understanding of the concepts of basic truths that must underlie complete living. These are the essential tools for building the future. It is with gratitude for our preparation to meet the demands of tomorrow that we leave the Stevens School, Mrs. Swan, the faculty, our schoolmates, and many memorable associations. We feel sure that our debt of thanks will increase as we take our places in this world which will prove our ability to initiate and accept changes.

CLASS PROPHECY

June 8, 1954

Dear Suzie Stevens,

Thought I'd write and tell you all the news about the class of '44.

I saw in the newsreel the other day that Mary Helen has finally settled in Honolulu. She looks charming among the palm trees in her shredded wheat skirt.

Have you seen Charlotte's new play "The Aching Cavity?" One writer said her satirical wit can be appreciated only by the keener minds of this sluggish generation. The leading lady, Jean Budd, is none other than Mr. Parker of the Stevens play in '44.

Ann has opened the Rebok Correspondence School and as humor editor of the New Yorker, she is constantly in the public eye, like grapefruit.

Rothy's latest modeling assignment entitled "What the Navy Wife Should Wear" was a clever arrangement of tiny anchors and rope.

I ran into Tillie and Marilyn the other day. Tillie has her doctor's degree, and Marilyn's "Blankin Beauty Blend" is putting Max Factor out of business. She told me that Eleanor is now principal of a girls' school and is making a great success of it.

Did you read in the papers that Ziggy was elected to Congress? Next thing you know she'll be President. Dorie's comic strip "Puny Pete" has pushed Superman off the presses completely.

I heard from Jeanie O'Brien and Goody last week. Goody's "Swoonatra" is winning blue ribbons everywhere. Jean is very busy recording torch songs for Columbia.

Another paragraph was added to Biz's account in Who's Who. Her amazing discovery of capsules for day-dreaming has been proclaimed "the" discovery of '54.

Bumped into Betty Ann who was staring into the sky at a new trailer model Helicopter. Bobbie has finally perfected its intricate rudder attachment.

Did you hear that Mary is the glamorous social secretary of Bugs Bunny, the Nutritional Food Administrator? Lonnie, trim in her nurse's uniform, has been brightening life for the men at Valley Forge Hospital.

Woody's new sign looks wonderful. "K. Woodbridge, Dental Hygienist—Painless Extractions on the Credit Plan." Jean Gildersleeve had been in on her way to the publishers with her most promising novel, "Noodles and Nutrition."

I sent a book of the Chinese Language to Emilie, who, as a missionary nurse, has developed a yen for fried fish eyes and birds nest soup.

Gwen is in Washington and recently delivered a fiery oration over the radio. She's busy campaigning to prevent Roosevelt's running for an eighth term.

Dottie Eddowes is still trying to pass the home ec. course; she has yet to find the man with an iron stomach. Dottie Knipe now owns Keller's. She makes all the greeting cards and has trouble keeping the rack filled.

That's all the news now, Susie—will write when I hear anything else.

The Scribe.

"OUR IDEAL"

To make well and to trade fairly. To profit not alone in dollars but in the goodwill of those with whom we deal. To correct our errors. To improve our opportunities and to rear from our daily work a structure which shall be known for all that is best in business.

AUSTIN H. MINNICH, President.

A Distinctive Yearbook . . .

is the product of the efforts of a capable editor plus the interested cooperation of a seasoned specialist. To an editor, who wishes to make a success of his first publishing venture, specialization offers innumerable advantages that are most helpful—in fact—indispensable.

It is advisable to have a specialist handle your yearbook. Investigate the services of "Campus," an organization whose entire business is college and school publications.
